

List Of Written By Enid Blyton

The Enduring Magic of Enid Blyton: A Complete Guide to Her Most Beloved Series

For generations of readers, the name Enid Blyton conjures up images of picnics, midnight feasts, secret islands, and daring adventures. Her stories have been a staple of childhood across the globe, selling over 600 million copies and being translated into nearly 90 languages. While many readers know her famous characters, the sheer volume of work she produced can be overwhelming. This guide serves as your definitive List Of Written By Enid Blyton, exploring the major series that defined her legacy. Whether you are a nostalgic adult looking to revisit old friends or a new reader eager to dive in, understanding the landscape of her work is the first step on a magical journey.

Blyton's writing is characterized by a unique blend of simplicity, moral clarity, and boundless imagination. She wrote across multiple genres, from school stories to fantasy adventures, and from mystery novels to nature tales. This article will break down her most significant series, providing a comprehensive overview of the books that make up each one. By organizing this List Of Written By Enid Blyton, we hope to illuminate the breadth of her talent and help you find the perfect story for your next reading adventure.

The Famous Five Series: The Quintessential Adventure

Perhaps the most iconic of all her creations, The Famous Five series follows the exploits of Julian, Dick, Anne, and Georgina (who insists on being called George), along with her faithful dog, Timmy. The series is a masterclass in children's adventure fiction, blending mystery, danger, and the simple joys of summer holidays. The children are often left to their own devices, exploring islands, finding hidden tunnels, and foiling smugglers and thieves.

Here is a definitive list of the novels in this cornerstone of the List Of Written By Enid Blyton:

- Five on a Treasure Island (1942) - The book that started it all, introducing the cousins and their discovery of a shipwreck and a gold ingot.
- Five Go Adventuring Again (1943) - A winter holiday adventure involving a mysterious tutor and a hidden map.
- Five Run Away Together (1944) - The children take refuge on Kirrin Island to escape a horrible governess and uncover a secret.
- Five Go to Smuggler's Top (1945) - A gothic adventure set in a strange house on a marsh, complete with secret passages.

- Five Go Off in a Caravan (1946) - A circus-themed mystery involving a runaway boy and a dangerous tiger.
- Five on Kirrin Island Again (1947) - George's father conducts secret experiments on Kirrin Island, attracting unwanted attention.
- Five Go Off to Camp (1948) - A holiday on the moors leads to a mystery involving ghostly trains.
- Five Get Into Trouble (1949) - A thrilling kidnapping story set in a creepy old house.
- Five Fall Into Adventure (1950) - George is kidnapped, and the others must find her in a seaside town.
- Five on a Hike Together (1951) - A hiking trip leads to a mystery involving a escaped convict and hidden treasure.
- Five Have a Wonderful Time (1952) - A holiday at a dilapidated castle leads to a discovery of a hidden scientist.
- Five Go Down to the Sea (1953) - A mystery unfolds at a farm in Cornwall involving a mysterious stranger and a secret room.
- Five Go to Mystery Moor (1954) - A pony-trekking adventure that uncovers a mystery on the desolate moor.
- Five Have Plenty of Fun (1955) - A American girl causes trouble, and a valuable dog is stolen.
- Five on a Secret Trail (1956) - Camping on a common leads to a mystery involving a lost treasure and a mysterious fire.
- Five Go to Billycock Hill (1957) - An airfield mystery involving a missing scientist and a friend falsely accused.
- Five Get into a Fix (1958) - A skiing holiday in Wales uncovers a mystery involving a strange old woman and hidden gold.
- Five on Finniston Farm (1960) - The children uncover a hidden treasure and a medieval secret on a farm.

- Five Go to Demon's Rocks (1961) - A lighthouse adventure involving a hidden treasure and a mysterious warning.
- Five Have a Mystery to Solve (1962) - A mystery on Whispering Island involving a valuable statue.
- Five Are Together Again (1963) - The final book in the series, involving a circus and a secret formula.

The Secret Seven Series: A Society of Sleuths

Another pillar in any List Of Written By Enid Blyton is The Secret Seven series. This group, led by Peter and Janet, operates from a secret shed and solves mysteries in their small town. The series is slightly more structured than the Famous Five, with a formal society, a password, and a badge. The stories are generally shorter and simpler, making them ideal for slightly younger readers.

The complete list of Secret Seven books is as follows:

- The Secret Seven (1949) - The formation of the society and their first mystery involving a missing necklace.
- Secret Seven Adventure (1950) - A mystery involving a stolen pearl necklace and a suspicious circus.
- Well Done, Secret Seven (1951) - The discovery of a coded message and a plot to steal a car.
- Secret Seven on the Trail (1952) - A mystery involving an escaped convict and a hidden shelter.
- Go Ahead, Secret Seven (1953) - A missing puppy leads to a larger mystery.
- Good Work, Secret Seven (1954) - A mystery involving a suspicious man and a hidden intruder.

List Of Written By Enid Blyton

- Secret Seven Win Through (1955) - The discovery of a mysterious bird and a secret message.
- Three Cheers, Secret Seven (1956) - A mystery involving a missing model aeroplane and a secret plan.
- Secret Seven Mystery (1957) - A girl goes missing, and the Seven must find her.
- Puzzle for the Secret Seven (1958) - A mystery involving a series of strange thefts and a coded message.
- Secret Seven Fireworks (1959) - Guy Fawkes Night is threatened by a series of thefts of fireworks.
- Good Old Secret Seven (1960) - The discovery of a secret room and a stolen prize.
- Shock for the Secret Seven (1961) - A mystery involving a missing child and a damaged shed.
- Look Out, Secret Seven (1962) - A mystery involving a new member and a stolen car.
- Fun for the Secret Seven (1963) - The final book, involving a mystery at a fairground.
- The Island of Adventure (1944) - The first meeting and an adventure on a mysterious island with an abandoned copper mine.
- The Castle of Adventure (1946) - A mystery involving a hidden castle and a plot against a top-secret aircraft base.
- The Valley of Adventure (1947) - An accidental flight in an aeroplane leads to a lost valley and a treasure of ancient manuscripts.
- The Sea of Adventure (1948) - A boat trip to a remote Scottish island turns into a mission to stop a gang of bird smugglers.
- The Mountain of Adventure (1949) - A holiday in Wales becomes a quest for a legendary lost city and a cure for a deadly disease.
- The Ship of Adventure (1950) - A Mediterranean cruise is disrupted by a mystery involving stolen treasures and a hidden island.
- The Circus of Adventure (1952) - A political thriller where the children must protect the Prince of Tauri-Hessia.
- The River of Adventure (1955) - The final adventure takes place in the Middle East, involving an archaeological dig and a secret river.

The Adventure Series: A Global Quest

For readers who prefer a more exotic flavour, The Adventure Series is a must-read. This series, part of the larger List Of Written By Enid Blyton, follows four children—Philip, Dinah, Lucy-Ann, and Jack—along with their friend Bill Smugs (a secret agent). Their adventures take them to far-flung corners of the world, from the mountains of Austria to the islands of the South Seas. The series is noted for its strong sense of place and more complex plots involving smuggling, lost civilizations, and international espionage.

The Adventure Series includes:

The Faraway Tree Series: A Portal to Enchantment

No List Of Written By Enid Blyton would be complete without her most magical offering. The Faraway Tree series is a pure fantasy, telling the story of three children—Joe, Beth, and Frannie—who discover a magical tree that reaches to the clouds. At the top of the tree is a ladder that leads to a succession of different lands, each with its own unique magic and whimsical characters, including Moon-

Face, Silky the fairy, the Saucepan Man, and the grumpy Dame Washalot.

The books in this beloved series are:

- The Enchanted Wood (1939) - The children discover the Faraway Tree and make friends with its inhabitants.
- The Magic Faraway Tree (1943) - More adventures in the magical lands, including the Land of Dreams and the Land of Spells.
- The Folk of the Faraway Tree (1946) - The introduction of new characters and adventures in even more fantastical lands, such as the Land of Temper and the Land of Toys.
- Up the Faraway Tree (1951) - A final collection of stories featuring the magical tree and its denizens.

The School Stories: Malory Towers and St. Clare's

Enid Blyton was a master of the school story genre, and her two main series, Malory Towers and St. Clare's, are beloved for their depictions of friendship, rivalry, and adventure within the traditional British boarding school system. These series are a vital part of any List Of Books Written By Enid Blyton.

Malory Towers Series

This series follows Darrell Rivers through her years at a girls' boarding school in Cornwall. The books focus on character development, with Darrell learning to control her temper and become a responsible prefect.

- First Term at Malory Towers (1946)
- Second Form at Malory Towers (1947)